KAU INVOCATION SONG*

Oh! Goddess shower Thy rain of compassion
On this earth parched with scorching summer heat'
When ploughs and oxen move and trench the fields'
When earth enriched by flora is a wonderful blanket of greens
When human knowledge takes unbound strides and leaps'
On the horizon of science' Oh! Goddess of Rain
Like a tree budding forth it's grain'
Magnanimous, selfless' unrestrained'
Sow thy seeds of attainment and gain'
When impregnated by knowledge of various kind
Mother earth gives birth to mankind
The seabats its drums of waves'
The forest sings songs of Praise'
Benefactress! Love Incarnate!
Like the wish-yielding Surabhi of Gods'
How generously you fulfill our desires innate'
Pour, Pour down on this earth
Milk and honey
And shelter us Goddess of Plenty!
Kindle a new lamp'
May its wick with new life throb'
This Temple of Farmers, may You grow
To be the source of Fortune's flow

* *An English translation of original Malayalam poem

KERALA AGRICULTURAL UNIVERSITY

The Kerala Agricultural University (KAU) came into existence on February 24th 1971 by the Act 33 of 1971 of the Kerala State Legislature, entitled The Agricultural University Act, 1971. However, the Kerala Agricultural University became operational on February 1st 1972 and has been discharging the mandatory functions of initiating, interfacing and integrating Education, Research and Extension activities in agriculture and allied branches of science. In 2011, KAU was trifurcated into Kerala Veterinary and Animal Sciences University (KVASU), Kerala University of Fisheries and Ocean Studies (KUFOS) and Kerala Agricultural University. At present the University has eight colleges, 6 RARs, 17 Research Stations, 7 KVKs and 7 Extension Units under the Faculties of Agriculture, Agricultural Engineering and Forestry. In addition, the Institute of Agricultural Technology, Pattambi and ORARS, Kayamkulam offers Diploma in Agricultural Sciences. RARS, Kumarakom offers B Sc (Hons.) Agriculture on self- financing mode.

ORGANISATION

The Governor of Kerala heads the University as its Chancellor. The State Minister for Agriculture is the Pro-Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor is the Chief Executive and Academic Officer of the University. Vice-Chancellor is also the Ex-officio chairman of the Executive Committee and Academic Council. He is assisted by salaried officers such as Registrar, Comptroller, Deans of Faculties and Directors of Research, Extension, Students' Welfare & Physical Plant, Director (Academic), Director (Planning) and the University Librarian.

STATUTORY BODIES

General Council, the supreme body of the University, comprises of elected representatives of all stake holders, members of Legislative Assembly as well as Local Self Government Institutions and scientists. Executive Committee, elected from among the members of General Council is the Executive body.

The Academic Council, the Boards of Studies in three faculties and the four member Finance Committee are the other statutory bodies.

EDUCATION

The Kerala Agricultural University was the 15th in the series of the State Agricultural Universities. KAU is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic excellence and integrity. The University is imparting education through its eight constituent colleges located throughout the state. The University under its three Faculties (Agriculture, Forestry, and Agricultural Engineering and Technology) offers five under-graduate programmes viz. Agriculture, Co-operation and Banking, Biotechnology, Climate Change and Environmental Sciences, Forestry, Agricultural Engineering, and Food Technology. Under Agriculture and allied sciences, the University offers post-graduate programmes leading to Master's degree in 34 disciplines and doctoral programs in 25 disciplines. Last academic year, the University has initiated two diploma, seven PG Diploma, two integrated, seven PG and two PhD courses on RF mode. A B.Sc. (Hons.) Agriculture programme has been initiated at RARS Kumarakom from the AY 2023-24 onwards.

KAU is the recipient of the Chancellors Award in 2021. The University is proud that it is accredited by the ICAR National Agricultural Education Accreditation Board since 2001 and presently is having an A grade. Currently, KAU is ranked 16th by National Institutional Ranking Framework (NIRF).

The University's Directorate of Education has portals for Admission, Student Enrollment, Mark Entry, Result Publication and Convocation. KAU has registered in DigiLocker and is publishing details of the various academic awards of students from 2016 admission onwards. KAU has also registered with Academic Bank of Credits through NAD Digilocker portal. The University has also registered in ICAR NAHEP AMS portal to manage student enrollment, course registration, and results. A Moodle based e-learning platform is in place. The Blended Learning Platform (BLP) of KAU plays a pivotal role in facilitating collaboration and knowledge exchange between ICAR-IASRI and KAU. In addition, University issued institutional electronic workspace accounts in the domain name '@student.kau.in', under the Google Workspace for Education, which contains communication tools such as Gmail, Google Meet, Chat etc., and collaboration tools including docs, sheets, slides, forms, etc. The University Library has also extended MyLOFT (My Library on Fingertips) facility to students and faculty through which they can remotely access the e-resources provided by the KAU Library. KAU has collaborations with academic institutions, both national and international such as Western Sydney University, Cornell University, IIT Palakkad and IIIT Kottayam. This AY, KAU has launched a new Dual Under graduate programme with WSU. The University is also empanelled in the list of universities under Indian Council for Cultural Relations.

RESEARCH

KAU is focused on improving the production and productivity of major crops of the state by harnessing the potential of frontier technologies, as well as improving the livelihoods of farmers without compromising on the environmental and economic sustainability of the farming sector. This has yielded many commercially viable technologies that have benefited the farming sector of the state. A farmer-first approach based on the issue of six Agro Ecological Zones has been followed by the University in the prioritization of its research agendas. Accordingly, the programmes are planned and implemented by six Regional Agricultural Research Stations that represent the respective agroecological zones. All these activities are oriented towards optimizing production while conserving heterogeneous biophysical resources of the state. Research Council and Research Review Committee oversee the conduct of research programmes and provide adequate guidance through the Directorate of Research.

KAU has played a crucial role in the development and release of 343 crop varieties, including 127 varieties of rice and 78 vegetable varieties. So far, KAU has achieved 25 patents and has created 112 technologies ready for transfer, with six technologies currently nearing the final phase of the transfer process. Moreover, 17 Geographical Indication (GI) tags have been secured by KAU, underscoring its impact on regional agriculture.

The interventions of KAU to the improvement of major crops, especially Food crops such as rice and vegetables have contributed significantly to the food and nutritional security of the state. The Kerala Agricultural University houses a rich repository of germplasm, both ex situ and in situ.

In realizing the research objectives, the University perpetuates strong partnerships with multiple stakeholders including the Indian Council of Agricultural Research, IITs, Development and Commodity Boards, Departments of the State and Central governments etc. Substantial investments in emerging areas like Biotechnology, Nanotechnology, AI, Machine learning, Drone technology, Secondary agriculture, Integrated farming, Bioformulations, Intellectual Property Rights, Farm mechanization etc. are being envisaged for finding viable solutions to climate change-related issue and promoting sustainable agricultural production in the state.

EXTENSION

Technology transfer, a primary mandate of the University, is implemented through the Directorate of Extension (DoE), which coordinates all extension activities across the university's stations. The DoE collaborates with state development departments to ensure efficient dissemination of technology and capacity-building among agricultural stakeholders. Several key initiatives have been launched by the Directorate to promote agricultural development and technology transfer, such as Block Level Agricultural Knowledge Centres (BLAKC), the Farm Plan-based Production Programme and the Mukhamukham Agro Clinic, all aimed at addressing challenges at the grassroots level.

The Directorate has made significant advancements, including forming partnerships with institutions like the Kerala State Department of Agriculture & Farmers Welfare, MANAGE and NABARD. Key infrastructure developments include the establishment of a soundproof recording and editing studio at ATIC, Mannuthy and a common facilitation centre at the Communication Centre, Mannuthy. The release of the Package of Practices Recommendations 2024, complete with an ISBN, marked another milestone, along side the launch of online sales of KAU publications under the 'Keralagro' brand on Amazon.

To expand outreach, the KAU News was increased to a bimonthly publication starting in January 2024. The DoE introduced 41 new-generation certificate courses and published the coffee table book Abode. The RAFTAAR Agri-Business Incubator secured notable funding and organized 52 entrepreneurship development programs. Other achievements include scientific protocols for paddy cultivation in Kole land, the installation of an automatic weather station at ETC, Manjeswar and the creation of a tuber crop museum at KVK, Thrissur.

Further initiatives include the 'Farm and Home' program in collaboration with Akashvani, training programs for various stakeholders and the production of popular and semi-scientific books, booklets and instructional videos for farmers. The DoE has also launched 'VithuVandi' for mobile technology sales, organized exhibitions, seminars and workshops and facilitated on-farm trials and frontline demonstrations for farmers, reinforcing its commitment to agricultural development across the region.
